

Steel Industry Faces New Act

Steel Factories Begin Closing

TORONTO, (CP)—Various departments of the three great basic steel plants in Canada were being closed down Saturday, and the strike of steelworkers at these plants was expected to be 100 percent effective by 7:00 a.m. Monday at the latest.

The steel strike was called Friday by the United Steel Workers of America (U.S.W.A.), which claims a membership of 14,000 in the basic producing plants of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation at Sydney, N.S., Algoma Steel Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie, and Steel Company of Canada at Hamilton.

The union demands a 40-hour work week with a minimum weekly wage of $23.50, which is estimated at an increase of 19½ cents an hour at Hamilton and the Sault, and 24½ cents at Sydney.

The walk-out of the steelworkers Monday will bring to around 50,000 the number of striking Canadian unionists. The others include 7,400 United Electrical union members in Ontario, 11,000 United Rubber Workers' union members in Ontario and Quebec, 5,000 United Auto Workers' union members in Chatham and Windsor, and 2,500 members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers in British Columbia.

The National Advisory Committee of the steel union at Hamilton set the strike for 12:01 a.m. Saturday, despite action of the federal government in appointing a federal arbitrator—F. Kilbourn of Montreal—to settle the dispute. The union's Canadian director, J. L. Millard, at Hamilton Friday night issued another blast against the federal government's action in appointing a steel controller, charging this was a move by the government to aid the steel companies.

Millard claimed the order-in-council appointing a federal steel controller was "a foul breach of the workers' rights."

The order provided penalties of $20 a day for employees refusing to carry out orders of the controller; a maximum fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for five years, or both for interference with the controller; or a maximum fine of $500 or both for six months imprisonment or both for interference with an employee or counselling to violate the order.

Prepare to Vote Saturday On U.S. Loan to Britain

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The administration won a thumping victory on the first house test on the $3,750,000,000 British loan Saturday when the House voted 382 to 180 to reject a motion by Rep. Charles Celler (Dem., N.Y.) to kill the ratification bill.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Russia joined large in the debate Friday night on the $3,750,000,000 British loan, proposing to amend the crucial vote Saturday will determine whether the world will look to Washington or Moscow for leadership.

The long debate ended with Rep. Charles Celler (Rep., Conn.) declaring Britain is "America's natural ally against aggression and she is the oldest and most-to-be-trusted ally."

Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts told the house the whole world would be watching to see whether the United States turns to isolationism or whether it will lead the world.

Many members applauded when Rep. James Watson (Rep., N.Y.) called for approval of the huge credit as a boon to foreign commerce, free enterprise and world peace.

"We have an opportunity to lead a free world," Mr. Watson declared before the largest attendance in the house since the war began four days ago. "Most of the world is looking to us for leadership."

Speaking for the opposition, Rep. Gerald Landon (Rep., Ohio) declared that "this loan is more likely to promote war than it is to preserve peace. He voiced confidence, after a poll of Republican members, that it will be defeated."

Latest polls showed 188 for the credit and 183 against, with 8 uncommitted.

By parties, the pros and cons were listed thus: Democrats—158 for, 22 against, 39 not committed; Republicans—30 for, 141 against, 31 not committed.

Bailiff Has Job Evicting Himself

CHICAGO, (AP)—For the last 30 years Bailiff Leo Zientek has been carrying out court orders to move people out on the street. Last March, Zientek's landlord notified him he would have to move from his apartment. Now Zientek is faced with the problem of ejecting himself out of his own apartment following issuance of a court order for his eviction.

Big Four Foreign Ministers Adjourn 28-Day Paris Conference

JAMES F. BYRNES, ERNEST BEVIN, GEORGES BIDAU, V. M. MOLOTOV

The four foreign ministers' conference at Paris adjourned Friday with Russia's first standing firm against any moves that would have led to immediate settlement of Austrian and German problems. The conference had been adjourned for 28 days.

More Salmon For Canadians

OTTAWA, (CP)—Fisheries Minister Bridges announced in the House today that the government has decided to make available to the Canadian domestic market this year.

He said the allocation had been made after consultation with international food authorities. Nearly all such canned salmon produced in Canada was shipped overseas during the war.

The 50,000 cases would bring the total supply nearly to the level of normal peacetime consumption, but it would be "some months" before additional stocks were on regular shelves, ready for sale to the public.

Bread Rationing Certain for Britons

LONDON.—Last week British bread rationing was announced by the boards Friday when John Strachey, the Labor government minister in charge of food, declared that bread rationing would be introduced in the near future.

Strachey's declaration came in the face of a growing criticism of the government's food policy. He said that the government was determined to bring about a new era of national unity.

New Microscope Expands Research

FRANCISCO, (AP)—A special type of microscope which German scientists allegedly kept secret for 10 years has permitted greatly expanded research into the mysteries of living cells, the veterinarians here announced today.

The instrument is called a phase microscope. It differs from ordinary microscopes in that it permits the observation of living cells. In conventional purposes, cells have to be stained with special dyes before they can be examined.

The German instrument was salvaged from the bomb-wrecked Kaiser Wilhelm Institute at Jena.

Ontario Town Fires Second Police Chief

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (CP)—Police Chief Herbert Langdon Friday night was dismissed by unanimous vote of the town council. It was the second time in nine months that a chief had been dismissed from the town.

Mr. Langdon, who had been in the job for 18 months, was dismissed for alleged mismanagement of the police force.

Lang Lake Area Centre of Hunt

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Sudbury is the center of the hunt for the missing jet-propelled plane Saturday centered around the Lang lake area, 45 miles southwest of here, after a 14-year-old boy reported sighting a similar plane.

The fighter plane, piloted by Pte. L. William H. McKenzie of St. Vital, Man., disappeared June 29, 1932, after a flight from Kapuskasing, Ont., to Toronto.

'Drowned' in 1899; Didn't Know It

TORONTO, Ont. (CP)—A man drowned in Lake Michigan 47 years ago, Cyrus Allen Jackson, 82, says he is the first he's heard of it. Jackson left Benton Harbor, Mich., in 1899 in a sailboat, snowed out in Chicago and then moved west before settling in Toronto. Shortly after he left he became very ill and on the shore and 12 Benton Harbor residents identified it as Jackson's.

The first he heard of the Jackson was when a newspaper reported that a Spanish-American war buddy, who had been informed of his "death" saw Jackson's name in a newspaper and started investigations.

New Act Lacks Major Controls

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate early Saturday passed by a vote of 62 to 15 a bill reviving the Office of Price Administration, but the bill has been denounced of almost as many major price controls as it promised to restore.

Final passage came on the 13th day of O.P.A.'s lapse into a legal coma.

Apparently amended far beyond the bounds which would permit its acceptance by President Truman, the one-year extension measure was sent to the house of representatives where it seemed likely to receive a quick push toward a senate-house conference committee. There, administration leaders hope to rewrite it.

Rep. J. P. Wollcott of Michigan, top Republican of the banking committee, said an effort might be made to substitute for it the original extension bill which President Truman vetoed June 29.

The new measure would revive O.P.A. and restore price control ceilings as of June 30. It would reinstate rent controls, with the proviso that states take over in this field where they have adequate laws.

Price controls would not be replaced on meat, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, milk or other dairy products, cotton seed, soybeans, grain, livestock, or poultry feed, nor on any form of tobacco. Petroleum would have no ceiling as long as supplies meet domestic demand.

Repealed were some of the provisions to which President Truman objected when he vetoed O.P.A. extension bill No. 1. These included a section giving final say on the lifting of food controls to the secretary of agriculture instead of O.P.A., which Mr. Truman said was an "unsound split of authority."

Other provisions which Mr. Truman said were "undesirable" for automobile and appliance dealers and lacked an additional $250,000,000 in subsidies which he asked.

In one major respect, it may be more satisfactory to administration leaders than bill No. 1. The senate put in a provision requiring that producers' manufacturers and processors' ceilings be placed high enough to take care of the average increase in costs in their industry since 1940.

Third Prison Camp Slayer, Busch to Be Hanged Oct. 16

MEDICINE HAT, (CP)—Sgt. Heinrich Busch, one of four German prisoners-of-war charged with the murder of a fellow prisoner, Capt. Karl Lehmann, of the Medicine Hat internment camp, Sept. 10, 1944, was sentenced to hang by a supreme court jury Friday night and sentenced by Chief Justice Gwynne to be hanged at the bridge jail Oct. 16.

Of the others charged with the hanging were Sgt. Heinrich Busch, Sgt. Major Bruno Perzenowski and Sgt. Walter Wolfe, have been convicted and sentenced to hang Oct. 16, while the fourth prisoner, Sgt. Heinrich Busch, was sentenced to hang Oct. 16.

The jury deliberated for two and three-quarters of an hour before returning the guilty verdict.

Testimony presented during the four-day trial was heard by a French teacher, as a man regarded by fellow prisoners as a Communist, and a member of the underground movement in the Medicine Hat internment camp.

Busch, in a statement submitted by the crown, said he had taken part in the hanging of Capt. Lehmann but had helped place a rope around the neck of the prisoner who had secured the opposite end to a gas pipe.

Air Officer Wins Prize at Bisley

BISLEY CAMP, Surrey, England, (CP)—Sgt. L. C. G. Willott of the R.A.F. Saturday won the King's Prize in the National Rifle Association's annual meet at Bisley, Surrey, England, by shooting a three-round "shoot-off" at 1,000 yards against Maj. Ronnie Maxwell of the R.A.F.

Two Canadians were within nine points of the winner, Sgt. L. C. G. Willott and Maj. Maxwell, who had 280 of a possible 300 points after the regular 10 shots at 1,000 yards. To break the tie, Maxwell shot two inners and a bullseye.

Sgt. L. C. G. Willott of the R.A.F. who shot on Canada's Bisley team in 1924, 1935 and 1936, and Capt. R. W. Hampton, formerly of the R.A.F., were also in the competition. There was no Canadian in the competition in 1937.

The Canadian winner of the King's Prize was Lt. Col. R. M. B. of the R.A.F. in 1937.

In the morning shoot-off, before 100 marksmen opened the final round for the King's Prize, Capt. Hampton won the Conan Doyle challenge statuette.

Banks Are Closed

BELFAST, (CP)—Northern Ireland banks were closed Saturday by a strike of 1,400 employed by the banks, which had improved working conditions.

The two were John C. Deguire, 18, of Montreal, and Raymond, 19, of Toronto, who were driving a mobile which they were driving had been in the Portage la Prairie, Man. police said.

Wants Fly Over A-Bomb Blast

By Kenneth McArdle
KWALEN — If Brig. Gen. Roger Ramey can swing it, there will be a B-29 Super-fortress directed by over the centre of the explosion on "Baker Day," date of the Bikini underwater atomic-bomb explosion and—Gen. Ramey will be in it.

The commander of the army air force detachment of joint task force one disclosed that he has asked permission to fly a plane over the point of detonation of the atomic bomb at the precise moment the blast occurs.

His objective is to take vertical—motion and still pictures of the anticipated geyser of water and atomic cloud.

As far as we are able to determine, it is perfectly feasible, General Ramey said. "We have a reliable safety factor at 30,000 feet, and a definite safety factor at 35,000 feet."

We would fly the time of the blast in advance and figure back in order to make a running start and be exactly vertical when the bomb explodes. We believe we could time it within two or three seconds. By the time the blast reached our altitude, we would be several miles away.

Ramey was given the "Able Day" the explosion of the fourth atomic bomb above the target area provided the weather and section of damaged ships. General Ramey was given over the fact that the men making the attempt of the target.

It is convincing that the bomb was off to a certain extent," he stated. "However, from the army air standpoint, the mission was a complete success with a complete cross-section of damage resulting."

The real reason for the address of this veteran group was clear when he said, "I am very disappointed the target still is there."

Criticizes Move To Bar Canada

Explain Airing Of House Speeches

By Victor Mackie
OTTAWA—Broadcasting of proceedings of the Saskatchewan legislature where there is a C.C.P. government was possible because there were independent community radio stations in that province, it was pointed out by Donald Fleming, (Pro. Cons., Edmonton) during consideration of submissions of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters by the parliamentary radio committee Friday.

Mr. Fleming asked if the broadcasts were paid for and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.P. leader, said it was his understanding that the Regina radio station CKCK was paid for the time required in airing speeches during debate from the floor of the provincial house.

"I believe the broadcasts are quite popular, are they not?" Mr. Coldwell asked F. H. Elphicke, manager of CKWX, Vancouver, spokesman for the Broadcasters' association.

Mr. Elphicke replied that the broadcasts were a novelty and would "probably attract quite a listener audience at first." He added that he had not seen any figures on listener audience for the program.

"I might point out that these broadcasts from the legislature are carried over a private radio station and there would be no such broadcasts if there were no private radio stations in that province," Mr. Fleming said.

Cabinet Reviews Doukhobor Strife

VICTORIA, (CP)—A special session of the British Columbia cabinet was held to discuss possible government action on occurrences connected with factional disputes among Doukhobors in interior areas of the province which have caused mounting alarm since mid-May.

Reports were heard from John Shirras of Vancouver, deputy commissioner of the provincial police, and Assistant Deputy Attorney-General H. Alan Maclean.

Premier Hart said no decision had been reached regarding government action pending receipt of further reports.

Neither the premier nor acting Attorney-General Kenney would comment further on the situation or the nature of reports under review.

It is understood, however, that Deputy Commissioner Shirras' report referred to some 23 allegedly incendiary fires and other disturbances and acts of violence in Doukhobor areas.

State Ownership Of Mines Approved

Public Rights are Supreme

In an effort to stave off a disastrous strike involving 14,000 workers, the federal government has taken over three basic steel plants. These three, Dominion Steel at Sault Ste. Marie, Steel Co. at Hamilton and Algoma Steel at Sault Ste. Marie, will be under the jurisdiction of government-appointed controllers until the labor trouble is over.

This is admittedly a drastic step. But the government had no alternative. The function of government is to govern and to govern is to protect the rights of all the people or, when the interests of factions conflict, to protect the rights of the majority of the people.

And control of a strike, tying up the production of steel and affecting the production of many vital industries, would seriously infringe upon the fundamental rights of the Canadian people.

This is a point that strikers frequently appear to overlook. Public rights are supreme and take precedence over the so-called rights of either labor or management. The kindest thing that can be said about the fomenters of most strikes and the men who follow them is that they operate in the deepest ignorance of the economic issues involved.

Some insist, of course, that many strikes are inspired by those who wish to disrupt the economic life of this continent. Certainly the present picture of chaos and confusion in the United States would seem to indicate that the purpose behind labor unrest is political as well as economic and has a sinister destructive intelligence in control of it.

If this is true and if certain agitators have as their purpose the transplantation of an alien political system in North America, they place themselves in considerable jeopardy by pursuing this aim with so much zeal. It should be pointed out that in Russia, where there are no strikes, labor works from ten to twelve hours a day. And many of the would-be leaders of labor in Canada would find themselves in liquidation or sojourning in Siberia within twelve hours of practising the tactics they inflict upon the public in Canada.

The present epidemic of strikes is iniquitous because it seeks to gain privileges for a small section of the community at the expense of the rest. It is a desperate attempt to gain fictitious advantages for labor at the cost of depressing production.

We call these gains fictitious because higher wages can be of no possible use if production is decreased. For, as The Edmonton Bulletin has pointed out so many times, production is the only solution for the economic problems of Canada or any other country. Production is the only real wealth.

When strikers depress or slow up production they insert a siphon into every pocket-book in the country—including their own. Neither management nor labor has any right to trespass upon the rights of the public because public rights are supreme. That is why the federal government very properly took over these three steel plants. The government cannot permit itself, in these matters, to be defied. For if any man can successfully defy the government and slow up those operations which sustain the public welfare, he is a public enemy.

Surely that is not what the Canadian people want.

Unfair

The work of the radio committee of the house of commons is entirely ineffective by the order of its procedure. Following the customary practice, the first meeting this year was held May 28 and all the early sessions were given up to Canadian Broadcasting Corporation officials presenting copious briefs. No critic of the CBC has yet been given a hearing except in cross examination of CBC officials.

The effect of this practice is that members of the committee are thoroughly saturated with CBC defence and propaganda long before they get to the complaints.

Naturally, as the hearing wears on, members grow weary of it and are not likely to give the same attention to critics as they do to the CBC propagandists who precede them.

This process is manifestly unfair to those who have complaints against the corporation. It is unfair to the corporation as well. For how can a system be improved if constructive criticism is manoeuvred into a position of disadvantage?

If the committee wants intelligent discussion of radio problems rather than an orgy of CBC self-congratulation, this process should be reversed. Criticism should come first, the reports afterwards.

In Palestine

Those Canadians who, in very understandable sympathy with the aims of the Jewish people in Palestine, have been moved to condemn the British government for maintaining troops in that country, would do well to study carefully the words of Prime Minister Attlee who says:

"The Anglo-American commission's report made it clear that if the British forces were withdrawn there would be immediate and prolonged bloodshed, the end of which would be impossible to predict. We should like to get our troops out of this difficult position, but unfortunately we have this responsibility and our troops are there. While they are there they must carry out the primary duty of a government to keep law and order."

And he added:

"What possible good can be done by wrecking trams, destroying bridges, shooting soldiers, kidnapping officers? How can the conceivably bring us one who negates the solution of this problem? That problem, which has lasted not decades but centuries, requires for its solution the utmost patience and utmost goodwill; but it requires at the same time, if our hopes are not to be shipwrecked, a firm administration in carrying out the ordinary fundamental duties of a government, distasteful as these may be."

An Honest Doubter

Mr. G.D.H. Cole's resignation from all the Socialist organizations of which he has been a member, of some for many years, will cause many a sincere Socialist to wonder what doubts have entered the master's mind; conversely, if he has been assailed by doubt that Socialism is any longer the remedy, what threatens to eclipse it? Is he on the verge of conversion to some other school? Is he evolving an economic theory of his own?

Mr. Cole is University Reader in Economics at All Souls College at Oxford, an almost lifelong associate with the Labor movement, and one of the founders of the Fabian Society in which he succeeded the famous Beatrice Webb as chairman six years ago. In addition to all this he counted, on his own admission, the hour lost in which he did not know something.

A characteristic of his numerous didactic works on Socialism is their utterly dispassionate tone. He reaches his conclusions in support of Socialism only after he has presented apparently as many arguments against one principle after another as he presents for them. Probably more serious converts have been won by his very dispassion than by all the fanaticism of the Laskis and the Marxes. When such a thinker halts in the path he has trodden so many years, asking his colleagues to travel with him, at least for a season while he thinks things over without his honest doubts embarrassing them, it will give many of his followers to pause and wonder whether they too should not recast their economic thought.

National registration "cards," says the Calgary Herald, "are, of course, a matter of routine in totalitarian or semi-totalitarian societies. They have them in Russia, in Spain, in Yugoslavia. They had them in Germany under Hitler and in Italy under Mussolini." Also, it might be added, since time almost immemorial in "the model democracy," Holland.

A press item from Greenock, Scotland, says the King and Queen and the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose will travel on the battleship Vanguard when she makes her maiden voyage to South Africa early next year. This may revive the constitutional question which arose when Their Majesties toured Canada in 1929 to the simultaneous absence from the United Kingdom of both the sovereign and the heir apparent.

What this country needs, says a politician, is man with the courage to spend money. We've got the courage.

Mass German protests take place in the British zone of the beaten country, it is noted, not in the part under Soviet control.

Time to Grow Up

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
The American is the world's oldest continuous republic with the exception of the Swiss. It can no longer, therefore, justify its follies on the ground of adolescent exuberance or plead its delinquencies before a juvenile court. It is the body and strength of a man whose tread is heard far beyond his own door.

But the headlines do not indicate the republic's sobriety or wisdom. The Bikini test, we learned, was most successful than the first reconnaissance seemed to indicate. But if the world trembled, it was from quite other reverberations.

Lifting all price controls and the ending of OPA would mean a panic-stricken flight of the British House of Commons when Food Minister Strachan announced that that removal had resulted in the United States suddenly ceasing to buy wheat; that therefore Britain and Europe could count with no certainty on American fulfillment of expectations; that the result might in British inability to maintain even the near-starvation level of 1,000 calories in non-agricultural zone of Germany.

The prospect of American inflation was reflected in the currencies of every country. The Austrian schilling jumped up vis-a-vis the dollar.

At the same time chances of the British loan already hanging in the air for months and thereby contributing by pure negotiation, to the cause of a pure irrelevancy—the troubles in Palestine.

A LOAN TO BRITAIN does not involve the question of whether the American people, or an organized section, approve all Britain's policies. It does involve the question of whether we shall drive the only other stable and free economy of Europe and the world into a chaotic state of anarchy, or whether we shall open up the world for freer flow of goods. On the answer depends the British loan agreement, and in the answer will lie the future of the world.

Yellowknife Reports

By HARPER PROWSE M.L.A.

It is Canada's fortune — and misfortune — that we are so close to the United States. We get the benefit of American industrial achievement in such forms as automobiles, and various household goods, and stocks and other articles common place in every home. American capital has helped to develop our industry, and American factories and homes provide a ready and willing market for much of our surplus production.

Because we tend to be more conservative than Americans we are usually able to reap the benefits of their mistakes. But because we are tied so closely to the American economy, dependent upon it for so many of our goods and services, we also share their economic misfortunes, and the cost of their mistakes.

We have seen what is happening in the middle which arises out of their price control bill, which President Truman vetoed because it "had no teeth in it." We have seen, at first hand, just how real the danger of inflation is. We are as interested as any American in the price which will be taken by the American government to stabilize prices before it is too late, now.

Yellowknife is a mining town in the Canadian sub-Arctic some 600 miles north of Edmonton, has had a weekly newspaper for a year, but for much of the time it has been a ghost town. It is called, rather grandly, The News of the North. In the edition of April 30th, Editor de Coursey announced proudly that the paper is the only one in the north which has a linotype machine and other equipment having been successfully mailed in by steamer train, "which means by caterpillar trucks."

Yellowknife is far beyond the railroad, but there are ships on the river when the ice goes out and the airplane has relieved the old winter isolation. Anyone who imagines that Yellowknife is a rough mining town, in the old tradition of the hinterland should look over the columns of this bright eighth page weekly. They were about to choose a beauty queen. Miss Yellowknife, to be competitor for the title Miss Canada. A barber shop and beauty shop offers its services. There is a hairdresser, dry-cleaning establishment. The town has taxis and hotels and coffee shops, electric light, a couple of churches. The Brownies have been holding a sale of candy and the Ladies Aid of Holy Trinity church raised $145 in a silver tea and quilt raffle.

But Yellowknife does have its charms about the north. On Easter Sunday afternoon a dog derby was held on the ice of the river. Pierre Bessy, owner of the Hudson's Bay Company advertisements that it will have oranges and apples, was the winner. The first boat comes in from outside.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

THE BIKINI BOMB

Editor, Bulletin—I believe the apparent inferiority of the Bikini bomb will be found to have been due to the absorption of energy by millions of tons of water thrown aloft.

Merely as an example, if over an area of a mile in diameter water to an average depth of three feet should be lifted an average of 1,000 feet, this would mean an absorption of energy of two thousand million foot-pounds, or equal to the discharge of many thousands of the greatest guns ever built.

The water-burden would also lessen the tremendous effect in muffled sound.

One Bikini despatch speaks of water being thrown up 50,000 feet. The would doubtless refer only to the topmost spray.

WHO GOES SHORT

Editor, Bulletin—I hear from reliable sources from Britain that a large number of people are undernourished. Where the food we are going short of going to? Could it be that it is going to our dear friends in Berlin and Rome? These people were our bitter enemies not long ago; doesn't it seem strange that we, the victors in this fight for humanity, should deprive ourselves of the essentials of life? Haven't the people of Britain suffered long enough?

If anybody is going to starve this winter, why should it be the British?

Do you think that had Germany won, she would have kept her people underfed and shipped food to England and Canada?

A. D. PRESTON.

MIND AND BODY

Editor, Bulletin—"The Mere Man" who expresses his disgust at women and bathing suits has no far to go to expose his true self. It is incredible how a person's mental corners can be so defiled as to see immorality in a beautiful and healthy figure.

It is not time we cleanse the mind or evil thoughts so that some day we may find ourselves in a new world where God's highest creation, the human body, will be looked upon as something pure and beautiful, something we should be proud of and endeavour to improve and beautify?

The modern trend of exposing the body to the maximum of light and air is one which will improve not only our physical health but also our mental health. It will help release us from the sex-consciousness which hinders our progress toward a healthier and happier social life.—ANOTHER MAN.

PLENTY OF SPACE

Editor, Bulletin—Eddie Cantor is reported as saying "the only chance for these [Jewish] children to survive is to send them to Palestine." He is wrong. There are countries, including his own, with empty spaces, but they are hesitant about admitting numbers of Jews, behind a camouflage of concern and indignation about the way some Jewish author is handling the problem. Palestine is tiny and, if everyone, even Arabs, welcomed them, it would be crammed like a ghetto. Audi Alteram Partem.

IRIN, Spain — Of many silly things done with the object of dislodging General Franco, none has been so silly as the decision of the French government to close the Spanish frontiers to the people most affected are the large Basque population living on either side who used to pass over daily on foot to see friends and relations. The numerous population on both sides who used to make their living out of the tourist traffic have also been dealt a cruel blow.

Even more important, French-Spanish trade, which was just beginning to revive, has been paralyzed, and, ironically, has done more harm to French than to Spanish.

France used to be a stronger country, buy from Spain most of the copper sulphate needed for her vine. Wine merchants of Bordeaux used to import Spanish wine to mix with their own to give it greater body. Oranges and lemons nearly all came from Spain.

The only person entirely unaffected by the French government's decision is quietly in Madrid and marvel at the folly of his enemies.

It seems almost incredible that the French government should face such appalling economic problems, should have wanted to add to its difficulties in this way. It is of course, common knowledge that Bidault, as foreign minister, greatly disdained taking this step. He was forced into it partly by the pressure French communists acting under orders from Moscow, and partly by the propaganda activities of Prof.

ness which hinders our progress toward a healthier and happier social life.—ANOTHER MAN.

U.K. Bond Issue Breaks Records

LONDON.—A British government loan-term loan, paying only two and one-half percent interest and floating on the stock exchange without any publicity or attempt at sales pressure, the salesmanship has netted $1,650,000,000 in under eight weeks. This is a new British record for any comparable bond issue.

The British Socialists naturally are feeling a certain amount of satisfaction at this evidence that despite hearty dislike of the Labor government among British financial circles, the government's credit is still good enough to borrow money in big quantities, and for 20 years, at such low interest rate, it is regarded," says the official London Daily Herald, "as the greatest tribute yet paid to the stability of the nation's credit under a Labor government."

Undisputed success of this latest issue certainly is a tribute to the financial skill of Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, who in one year since taking office has succeeded in allying about one-fifth of the interest rate which the government must pay for borrowed money.

In addition to "new money" obtained by this loan, Dalton has succeeded in persuading owners of $1,320,000,000 worth of war bonds, due to be repaid in two years, to convert them into the new long term issue. This gave him the trouble of raising that amount of new money in 1946.

Italian Cabinet Ministers Named

ROME, (AP)—Italy's major political parties succeeded late Friday night in composing their differences, and in assigning portfolios for the country's first republican cabinet.

Alcide De Gasperi, leader of Italy's No. 1 party—the Christian Democrats—who was asked 10 days ago by President Enrico Ciano to form the new government, retained the presidency of the council of ministers and took over the much sought-after ministry of interior. His party received six other cabinet positions.

The Socialists and Communists, Italy's second and third ranking political parties, each received four of the 17 cabinet positions, while an independent party member, Elio Cossiga, retained the treasury portfolio.

The Republicans, who last night announced they would not participate in the government, acceded to persuasion and accepted the ministry of war, while an 18th minister, without portfolio, was expected to go to another member of the party.

Build 4,869 Houses January to April

OTTAWA, (CP)—The dominion bureau of statistics reported Thursday that in 192 municipalities reporting, 1,444 dwelling units were completed in April, and 4,869 from January to April total 4,869 dwellings.

The total for the first four months of this year 3,976 were in urban and 892 in rural municipalities. Distribution in western provinces: Manitoba 225; Saskatchewan 218; Alberta 499 and British Columbia 1,146 units.

Suggestion Made To Change C.B.C.

OTTAWA, (CP)—Suggestion of a reorganization of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, separating operation of C.B.C. stations and networks from the administrative power of the board of governors on radio regulation, was made Friday by Revenue Minister McLean, minister responsible for the C.B.C.

Dr. McLean made the suggestion before the common radio committee, which was considering a proposal for the Canadian Association of Broadcasters for the establishment of a board of appeal on radio legislation. The association had complained of the present arrangement under which the C.B.C. is actively engaged in the radio business, also was the final authority on regulations.

Cargo Shortage Ties up Shipping

MONTREAL, (CP)—Shortage of cargoes, principally grain, will force a large portion of Canada's inland fleet to tie up at lake ports within the next few days, a Montreal shipping official said.

The official said it would be the first time in seven years that such a move had been necessary, although it was a common occurrence before the war.

Shipping officials have previously reported the dwindling of grain shipments. The sluggish period is expected to last a month or more.

It was found in going back to the past, he said.

There was disparity in the tax treatment of those with small incomes compared with those with large incomes. The amount left after living expenses was more important than the rate of taxation, he asserted.

Americans Halt Dismantling Plants

By David Schenbrun
PARIS, (GNA)—Although the American authorities have halted the dismantling of German industrial plants for reparations purposes, they are proceeding with all the technical work of evaluation and allocation of these plants, pending the final settlement of the German question. Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor in the American zone in the Reich, declared.

Gen. Clay, the United States representative on the Allied Control Commission, is in Paris for the continuing Big Four ministers' talks on Germany. He was present at the session, earlier this week, in which Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov read the protest of the Soviet Union against the halting of deliveries in reparations to Russia.

Gen. Clay pointed out that the Allies had agreed at Potsdam to treat Germany as an economic whole and that, until such economic unity was achieved, it was impossible to continue the dismantling of industrial installations and the deliveries of such reparations.

Gen. Clay added that there were two factors now preventing the implementation of the Potsdam agreement, one, the French refusal to approve centralization until the Ruhr, Rhineland and Saar frontiers and their administration were decided, and two, solution of the question whether reparations were to be paid out of current production and whether Germany was to be permitted to export in order to pay for imports.

The American deputy military governor pointed out that the United States budget was already saddled with the sum of $200,000,000 for occupation costs and the present reparations system would drain Germany dry of resources necessary for imports to the Reich to be paid for by the United States in an increased budget. Thus, in effect, he pointed out, the American people were paying for German reparations.

Draft New Division To Aid Veterans

OTTAWA, (CP)—Veterans Minister Mackenzie Friday announced formation of a social service division of the veterans department to be headed by Capt. C. A. Patrick of Winnipeg.

Mr. Mackenzie said in a statement there was "no thought of duplicating the community services available to the veteran" and the new service would "work closely" with established social agencies.

Report Paraguay To Have Elections

BUENOS AIRES, (GNA)—Elections in Paraguay will be held this year, President Higinio Morinon is reported to have told a meeting of Paraguayan officers at the Campo Grande garrison, near Asuncion, capital of Paraguay.

President Morinon is also said to have told the officers that Paraguay would find it expedient to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

Suspension of this week of press censorship, which was in force six weeks, is seen as the immediate consequence of the government's decision to prepare for the elections. At the same time, the government is reported to have begun organizing the Partido Popular to win the vote of the peasant and middle class. This party, which was planned last April, is patterned on the style of the Argentine Partido Laborista which swept Gen. Juan D. Peron into office.

The Paraguayan government is reinforcing this party mainly to neutralize the power of the Communist party which is expected to poll a large vote. These developments follow on the heels of the abortive putsch June 9 against the Morinon government by members of the Iron Front, a radical military organization closely linked with Argentine circles supporting President Peron.

Newsprint to cost More in Alberta

MONTREAL, (CP)—Announcements Friday by three more newsprint manufacturers brought to eight the number of firms which have announced an increase of $6.00 a ton in the standard price of newsprint delivered at customers in the United States and Canada.

Friday's statements were from Price Brothers and Company, Limited, Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Limited, and Domtar, Limited. The increase, resulting from the recent revaluation of the Canadian dollar, brings the standard price of newsprint delivered at New York City to $73.80 a ton, and the price in Montreal to $69.80.

Other firms which have announced similar increases are Consolidated Paper Corporation, Limited, Canadian International Paper Company, Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, the Great Lakes Paper Company, and Pessier River Company, Limited.

The Powell River Company Limited is the source of supply for all Alberta and British Columbia newspapers. The current increase in the cost of newsprint announced by Powell River is the fourth since the outbreak of war. The last previous increase was nine dollars per ton.

$40 Nightly Pay, No One Wants Job

MOBILE, Ala., (AP)—Stevedoring jobs paying $40 a night for unloading German sea gas bombs were going begging Friday, United States army authorities at the nearby Threemile naval ammunition depot reported. As the number of persons trained recently for mustard gas work suffered in handling the cargo climbed to 64, army officers said there was a labor shortage. The bombs were brought to the United States for experimental purposes.

The Dominican Republic has removed all controls from paper.

Test Atom Theory To Double Power

BERKELEY, Calif., (AP)—Successful tests of a new principle which will enable cyclotrons to double the striking force of their atomic projectiles were announced Friday at the University of California radiation laboratory.

The new principle, discovered simultaneously by Dr. Edwin N. McMillan of the radiation laboratory, and by V. Vekselor, a Russian scientist, applies frequency modulation to cyclotrons.

In radio, frequency modulation yields superior tones and reduces static. In cyclotrons it increases the number of electrical kicks that can be given a projectile, thus adding to the speed and effectiveness of the nuclear bullet.

This principle deals with the Einstein theory that particles moving at high speed gain weight in proportion to the velocity increase. The function of the cyclotron is to swing atomic particles around in a circular chamber until they collide at high speed and collide with a target atom.

As a result of Dr. McMillan's work, the huge new cyclotron will produce deuterons, which are the nuclei of heavy hydrogen and are used extensively as atomic bullets, with energies of 200,000,000 volts, and alpha particles which are the nuclei of helium atoms, with the striking power of 400,000,000 volts.

This increase represents another step in the efforts of nuclear physicists to produce an atomic power approaching the power of cosmic rays. Even the projected power of the giant new cyclotron, to be completed in a few months, falls short of that goal, but other kinds of atom smashers, now in the works, are expected to achieve it.

House Will Hear Zionist Sneakers

By Chester Bloom
OTTAWA.—Despite warning of the chairman, J. A. Bradette, (Lib., Constance), that they were treading on contentious new ground, the external affairs committee of the house voted Friday to permit representatives of the Zionist organization of Canada to appear before it next week to discuss the Palestine situation.

On motion by Solon Low, (C.P., Peabody), the committee also voted that if any representatives of the Arabs wished and expressed a desire to appear and present their case, they would get the same privilege.

The Zionist request was submitted in a telegram from Samuel J. Zacks, president, Montreal, Mr. Zacks' message asked the privilege because "of the present situation in Palestine and of the interest of the Canadian public in developments in that country over which British holds a mandate endorsed by Canada."

In addition to hear the Jewish side of the Palestine case was made by John G. Diefenbaker, (C.P., Leamington), and Stanley Knowles, (C.P., Winnipeg, North Centre).

Committee members generally agreed that if the Jewish side were heard, that of the Arabs should be permitted also.

70,175 Attended Stampede Friday

CALGARY, (CP)—All-day attendance records at the stampede were shattered Friday when 70,175 persons entered the grounds. This is the first time the attendance any day passed the 70,000 mark since the exhibition first opened in 1912.

Ideal weather with temperatures mounting to 80 degrees contributed to the record crowd on children's day. Friday's attendance brought the five-day figure to 284,867, only 8,304 below the six-day record last year. Nearly 25,000 children packed the grandstand Friday morning, an estimated increase of 2,000 over last year.

Hold Hillman Rites In Carnegie Hall

NEW YORK, (AP)—Thousands of mourners, including labor's rank and file and high government officials, overflowed Carnegie hall Friday as funeral services were held for Sidney Hillman, 59-year-old labor and political leader, who died Wednesday.

It was the first time in the hall's 60-year history that a religious funeral service was held in the building.

Plan to Re-Engage Air Force Girls

RCAP WD's who have been released are to be re-engaged for service in the Royal Canadian Air Force, recruiting officers at North West Air Command announced today.

SUBJECT to satisfactory medical category and service records, the girls are to be re-engaged for a minimum period of three months. They may however continue to serve until Dec. 31, 1944, at which time they will be released. Those selected will be employed in the locality in which they are re-engaged, and except in special cases it is not planned to post them to outside units.

Under this new policy WD's are to be granted active service rates of pay and allowances and will be re-engaged in the rank and trade grouping which they held on discharge. Those who held an acting rank are to retain their rank providing they are filling a position which calls for their acting rank. Immediately prior to discharge they are to receive one week's special leave with pay.

THERE WILL BE re-issues of clothing, and the girls are to receive a cash grant for the purchase of small items such as underclothing.

In order to be eligible for re-engagement under the new scheme ex-WDs must be unmarried or widows without dependents. Full information can be obtained from the recruiting office at North West Air Command, Phone 28161.

Snowflakes falling against a rapidly moving plane can cause sufficient static electricity to interfere with radio reception.

Who's Who in Edmon-Teens Plan Air Show

For RCAF Fund

An air show in aid of the RCAF Benevolent Fund is to be held at North West Air Command on Friday July 26 and Saturday July 27. Edmontonians will remember the show that was put on during 1943 when airplanes of various types were inspected and seen in action by several thousand citizens.

This year's show will have 12 different types of planes on display, a parachuting competition and a sports program. On Saturday evening a special dance will be held at the drill hall at NWAC.

The benevolent fund is in aid of needy ex-members of the RCAF and their families. Arrangements are being made to try and provide extra facilities for transporting patrons to the show.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix: My wife and I have been married a month. She is 18 and I am 22. We love each other very much, but we are beginning to wonder if our marriage was a mistake. Neither of us has changed that we know of, but we are not just as radiantly happy as we expected to be. Some of the thrills seem to have gone, if I may put it that way. We seem to have gotten like other married people. Can you help us regain the rapture that is missing?

Bewildered Husband and Wife.
Answer: Every honeymoon is bound to wane because no one can live on the emotional heights long. YOU TWO kids are going through the settling down process, which is a part of every marriage, and you are hurt and bewildered because you didn't realize that it was bound to happen to you, as it does to everyone else, and so you are unprepared for it. You are finding out that love-making can pall upon you; that you can get bored to death when you have too much of any one person's society, and that romance vanishes. You can't keep on thrilling to the sound of a footstep that you hear all day long. Nor does a bread and butter kiss have the flavor of a stolen one. And you can't get the kick out of bringing home a mess of pork chops that you did out of presentiment Sweetness with an orchid. But that is no sign that your marriage has gone on the rocks after only a month's duration.

IT IS JUST that you two are breaking in your marriage as you would a pair of new shoes, and you will never really enjoy it until it gets loose and easy and comfortable. All happy marriages finally turn into a beautiful friendship.

Dear Miss Dix: I have worked for the past four years since my husband has been in the Army. Now he is about to return home and he insists upon my giving up job so I can devote all of my time to him. But he has no money saved and no certainty of employment, so I hesitate to relinquish my position until our future is more settled.

What should I do?
Bewildered Wife

Answer: Get your employer to give you a week off that you may devote to welcoming your husband back home. By the end of that time in all probability you and he will have talked out to each other and he will be glad not to have you concentrate all of your time and attention upon him. But don't be foolish enough to give up your job. He is probably under the delusion that good jobs are just waiting around to be picked up, whereas they are scarce as hens' teeth.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What should an engaged girl do with a diamond engagement ring when her fiancé has been reported missing or killed?

Marjorie.

Answer: She should keep it as a precious souvenir of her lost sweetheart. It is what he would surely wish her to do. And it belongs to her by every right of love and custom.

Trousers, Wallets Stolen in Night

David Williams, Castle hotel, reported to police that his trousers and two wallets had been taken from his room Friday night or Saturday morning. The trousers were found later on the fire escape and one of the wallets was recovered in an alley at the rear of the hotel. The wallet still missing contained $8 in cash and identification papers. Williams said the incident occurred while he was sleeping in the room and his pants had been hung on a chair near the bed.

Wedding Bells Ring in July

FABICK - GOSS

In a double-ring ceremony at First Baptist church recently, Rev. Daniel Young solemnized the marriage of Geraldine Margaret (Peggy) Goss, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Goss of Edmonton, and Donald Fabick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fabick of Burghill, Ohio. Lilacs and gladioli decorated the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle period dress. Orange blossoms held her floor-length veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and white sweet peas. She wore a necklace of pearls, gift of the groom.

Miss Joan Goss attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Joyce Saywell was bridesmaid. They were crowned in tulle period dresses in mauve and blue respectively, and wore hair veils in matching shades. They carried colonial bouquets.

Best man was Mr. Bruce Smith and the ushers were Mr. Jerry Ferguson and Mr. Raymond Goss. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Goss chose an afternoon dress in gray and mauve with a floral hat.

Her accessories were in black and she wore a corsage of yellow roses. A reception to 50 guests was held at the home of Mrs. Fabick. The wedding cake was centered with a tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle. Tall white tapers and vases of sweet peas and carnations flanked the centerpiece.

Mrs. A. H. Holmes and Mrs. W. F. Croft poured coffee and the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Young. Cakes of best wishes were received from England and Eastern Canada during the reception.

The couple left by motor for Jasper, Banff and Yellowstone National park en route to Minneapolis, Minn., where they will make their home. For travelling, the bride wore a mauve suit trimmed with brown, with a topcoat to match. She wore a brown halo hat and a corsage of gardenias.

ALBERT-ANDERSON

St. Anthony's Rectory was the scene of a quiet wedding when Miss Elizabeth Helene Anderson of Edmonton, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Anderson of Binger, Sask., became the bride.

Mr. Bernard Louis Albert, of Edmonton, Rev. C. J. Foran officiated.

The bride wore a white alpine cloth suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A buffet luncheon was held at the Macdonald hotel later, where Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Albert were a two-piece dress of blue and white.

The brides table was laid in white linen and tall white tapers flanked the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert left later for Banff and Jasper, the bride travelling in a two-piece dress of Alice blue.

The bride is a graduate of the General Hospital here.

MARTIN-HAIRE

At All Saints' cathedral in a recent afternoon ceremony, Rev. H. G. Grant united in marriage Miss Germaine Haire, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Haire of Edmonton, formerly of Jasper, to Mr. Rolfe Martin, son of Mrs. L. Martin of Montreal.

The bride wore a gown of white with a restful, a crescent and round neckline and long lily-point sleeves. Her finger-tip length train was caught to a gathered headband and she carried a bouquet of deep red and white roses.

She wore a necklace of pearls, belonging to her mother.

Miss Joan Brock, who was bridesmaid, was given in marriage to Mr. Rolfe Martin by her father, Mr. Brock, who was best man.

The bride chose a light gray afternoon frock with wild mulberry accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Martin, wore a black dress with contrasting white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

'Perfect Recipe for Romance' Found by City Girl in Paris

By Dorothy Howey

It isn't every Canadian girl who leaves a quiet civil-service job in Ottawa to go to Paris for seven delightful months; is married there with Maj.-Gen. Georges Vanier, Canadian Ambassador to France, and Mme. Vanier as guests at her wedding; and her honeymoon in Switzerland and comes back to America as a GI bride.

But that is the brief highlighted history of the last four years for Mrs. W.J.E. Ward, now of Seattle, Wash., the former Miss Gwyneth Shaw of Edmonton who worked at the Canadian Embassy in Paris from October of last year until May this year. She is at present visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. R.N. Shaw, 1128 30 avenue.

The fact that she will go to Seattle soon to keep house for her husband, Lieut. William Ward, who, after four years service in the U.S. Army, will go back to university to continue his war-interrupted education in engineering, is just another interesting phase to this aim of doing new and different things just commonplace happenings.

Recipe for Romance
Marriage in Paris in the spring with a honeymoon in Switzerland is the "perfect recipe for romance," she admitted in an interview. "I had a broken heart and it brought some of the interest and excitement that attended her sojourn in Paris to her mother's quiet living room in Edmonton.

"Then I went to Ottawa. I had no idea I was going to Paris; when I went to Paris I had no idea I was going to get married. I just came back a GI bride," she said. She met her husband, Lieut. Ward, while doing her job in Paris, and married him in April of this year.

Getting married in Paris is, to say the least, complicated. For the civil ceremony you must have birth certificates and all papers translated into French, and if they aren't done in the country of origin, they must be translated all over again. We needed certificates of domicile which for me, was difficult to get. I lived in a requisitioned hotel as did all our staff.

Of her marriage at the Episcopal

Pro-Cathedral, Paris, in April of this year, she recalled that she was advised that only white flowers may be used at a French wedding. "Even the flowers on my hat, as well as the ones in the church and my bouquet were white, to tone in with the calla lilies used throughout the church," she said.

"Maj.-Gen. and Mme. Vanier attended the wedding. They are very charming people," she said, "and wonderful to any Canadians in Paris."

"Shopping in Paris is the thing, ever, with uncontrolled prices," she recalled. Her wedding trousseau, several blouses and some lingerie she had made by Parisian dressmakers, supplying her own material and paying black-market prices for threads and buttons. She brought back with her two lovely Parisian handbags, as well as perfumes. "I got some of the Currier's some Worth and some of real Chanel No. 5. I just hope they get here now. They're coming in my trunk, you see."

"Switzerland was wonderful," she said, "and the people most gracious and hospitable." They went on their honeymoon, first to Basel, then to Zurich which they loved because of its modernity and similarity to Canadian and American cities, and then to Davos where they stayed.

Honors in Languages
Explaining how she got the opportunity to go to Paris, she said that at the University of Ottawa she had taken honors in modern languages, majoring in French and German, and graduating with honors. Her qualifications led to a job in the dominion government. She went to Ottawa in September, 1942, and worked there until 1944.

In Ottawa she worked as a German language examiner along with other Canadians clever at languages. "There are now in Germany," she said, "a great many people who worked in Ottawa." After V-E Day, the work of the department began to diminish. Before going overseas, she worked for five weeks in the National Research Council library. Her job was the indexing of books from the front lines.

It paid, of course, when the department of external affairs offered her a trip to Paris.

Lieut. Wallace Duffield, R.C.N. (R.), who has been stationed in Vancouver, has left for his home in Edinburgh, Scotland, after two weeks in Edmonton for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Pyle announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Marion, to Mr. Philip A. Pyle, son of Mrs. Mary Pyle and the late Mr. J. P. Pyle. The wedding will take place in the First Baptist church on Aug. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stewart, president of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of the Edmonton-Peace River Association, has returned to Edmonton after spending two weeks in Vancouver attending the Baptist Union convention of Western Canada. While there she was a guest of Mr. Arthur Earle.

Mrs. H. H. Goodwin has returned to her home in the city after visiting Calgary for a few days, guest of Mrs. J. E. Beckett.

Mrs. James Slesor, formerly of Edmonton and now in Vancouver, is in town for a few days, a guest at the Macdonald.

Mr. and Mrs. George Manson, 114 st., have as their guests their daughter, Miss Alice Manson, and her four children, of Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell of Edmonton wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Elizabeth Maud, to Mr. Alfred Ernest Bradley, son of Mrs. Margaret Bradley, of Edmonton, and the late Mr. A. H. Bradley. The wedding will take place Aug. 30 at Strathcona Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, of Vermilion, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Barr, to Mr. J. Crowell of Wadena, Sask., formerly of Vermilion. The double wedding will take place in August.

Compliments Miss Anne Heaton Kosloff, who is to be married this month, several parties have been held recently. Mrs. G. Johnstone gave a cup and saucer shower one evening, and on another occasion the bride-elect's former fellow employees at Johnstone Walker, Ltd., held a supper party at the Purple Lantern and presented her with a gift. Mrs. Harry Thorn entertained 15 guests to honor the bride-to-be.

C.G.I.T. Camp Held at Falls
Thirty campers returned this week from the C.G.I.T. camp at Falls on Lake Wabamun. The camp was for senior girls from 15 to 18 years of age.

The first intermediate camp for girls 12 to 14 years of age begins Tuesday with 30 girls expected to attend. Leaders at this camp will include the camp director, Mrs. I. H. Woodward; camp mother, Mrs. R. H. Johnson; nurse, Mrs. V. Thompson; sports director, Miss Beryl Blissett; and leaders, Joan McLeod, Mabel Parker and Margaret Woodward.

SPOON HURLED INTO LEG

Scotland's Champion Dancer Displays Some of Trophies

MRS. HOWARD MCNICOLL (CAROLINE MUNRO)—Photograph by Kenist Studio.

Glittering Array of Medals, Prizes Brought to City by Scottish Bride

By Grace Piper

Scotland's champion national dancer has become an Edmontonian through marriage. She is Mrs. Howard McNicoll, young Scottish war bride, who joined her husband here in May.

An auburn-haired girl with sunny blue eyes, the former Caroline (Carol) Munro of Glasgow has 200 medals and 75 trophies to testify to her skill as a dancer. Her collection are her Scottish championship trophy, which she won in 1936, and her own medals. She won in 1936 and 1937. She still retains her championship titles as during the war dancing competitions were suspended.

But it was skating, not dancing, that indirectly brought Mrs. McNicoll to Edmonton. It was while she was skating at a Paisley, Scotland rink that she met her husband, then serving in the Canadian navy. He is a "Scot" by descent, too, as his father, Mr. David McNicoll, was originally from Dundee.

Before the war, Mrs. McNicoll ran a school of Scottish dancing in Glasgow. Here she taught the specialties that had brought her honours—the Highland fling, the sword dance, the shenbunbun and the reel of Tulloch.

When the war broke out, she left her school, Mrs. McNicoll says, she closed her school and joined the Civil Defence Service. Her job then was to work at first-aid posts whenever needed. "I helped bandage those injured in the big or in street accidents," she relates. "I had, of course, my first aid certificate from the British Red Cross. I was lucky never hurt myself though I went through some bad blisters. On March 12 and 13 of 1941, I don't believe we had five minutes' peace from the bombing."

After the war, Mrs. McNicoll reopened her school but again "went out of business" when she married and came to Canada.

She has two "careers" wishes for the future: to teach in a school of dancing and to open a school of Scottish dancing. She made a start on the first project when she danced at the Highland games on July 1, wearing the striking white-kilted "Dress Stuart."

CLUB GIVES SHOWER
Members of the Trux X club held a shower at the home of Miss Jean Dembrocki in honor of Miss Betty McElroy, a bride-elect of early August.

40th Anniversary Marked by Couple

On the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary July 2 Mr. and Mrs. Louis Opheim were at home to friends, during their afternoon tea, evening at their residence, 10037 31 ave.

The presentation of gifts was made by Mrs. O. Arntzen. Telegrams of congratulation were received also by the honored couple from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cook, of Edmonton, who are residing in Vancouver, from Mrs. B. Porters and Mrs. E. Stephenson, of Vancouver, and from Mr. and Mrs. A. Nelson, of Edmonton.

Among those present were Mr. W. Thomson, of Edmonton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Opheim, and Mr. O. Arntzen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Deigau, Mr. and Mrs. W. Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. O. Blome, Mr. and Mrs. K. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. G. Scott, Mrs. L. Taylor and Mrs. Q. Johnson.

Prize Winners Announced In Mural Design Contest

Miss Isabel Johnston of Calgary, formerly of Edmonton, was the first-prize winner in the mural design contest of the provincial chapter, I.O.D.E., sponsored by the Fort Briscoe chapter of Calgary. It was announced this week.

Miss Johnston won the $250 prize for her mural design, "Founding of Fort Calgary." Other prize winners were Mrs. Kathleen Perry of Calgary, who won the second prize of $150 with "Albion of the West," and Miss S. Karen Axelsson, also of Calgary, third prize of $100 with "First Dance at Fort Calgary."

The contest was open to residents of Alberta for the purpose of assisting in stimulating western art.

The mural was to be of a western theme and the subject was the artist's own choice.

Born at Castor, Alta, Miss Johnston is the daughter of Mrs. J.C. Johnston of 11938 90 st., Edmonton, and the late Mr. Johnston. She attended school at Edmonton, Leaside and Wildwood and took her grade 12 at Riverside, Calif.

For several years prior to joining the C.W.A.C. Miss Johnston was employed in Grande Prairie and for the past two years she has been attending the Calgary School of Technology and Art.

While serving in the Canadian Women's Army Corps, Miss Johnston was stationed at Edmonton, Vermilion and Wetaskiwin.

Even Most Colorful Glamor Girls Prefer Traditional White To Favorite Tints on Wedding Day

By Grace Piper
Edmonton Journal Staff Writer

Whether she's a glamorous debutante or hard-working "white collar" girl, the Edmonton bride prefers white for her wedding gown.

A few brides, flaunting tradition, choose a shade they feel more becoming to them from the many lovely pastels, but these are in the minority.

On rare occasions when Edmonton brides have turned to their favorite pastel shades, the effect has been entirely charming. In one such recent wedding, the bride chose to wear a gown of ice-blue satin which effectively complemented her blonde hair.

Edmonton's bridal outfitters warn, when queried about the pastels, that if a colored gown is chosen, it must be delicate in shade and selected to harmonize with the bride's natural coloring. And they add, wedding gowns in color are difficult to obtain.

But the average city bride, they say, passes up the colors in favor of white—either in shimmering satin or delicate lace or tulle.

Once the material has been obtained, the style of the gown becomes the all-important question.

One particular model has led the popularity parade among this season's brides. That is the full-skirted gown with a tightly-fitted bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline and lily-point sleeves.

With this ensemble, the bride usually chooses a Mary Queen of Scots headdress and long flowing veil. To complement her gown she selects a bouquet of Tausan roses and, as her only jewelry, a single strand of pearls.

"Although some brides prefer an 'all white' wedding, the typical Edmonton bride would rather have her attendants wear gowns in pastel shades. Favorite choices here are such rainbow colors as blue, pink, American Beauty rose, Grape green, violet and peach."

Lieut. William J. N. Ward, U. S. Army, and his bride, the former Miss Gwyneth Barbara Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Shaw of Edmonton, who were married in the early spring in the Episcopal Pro-Cathedral

bassador to France; the bride and bridegroom; Miss Vanier and Col. Maurice Forzest, Montreal, Canadian Military attaché, Paris. The couple now is visiting the bride's parents at 1128 90 ave, Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Summerskill are shown after their wedding recently at McDonald Baptist church. Mrs. Summerskill is the former Miss Hazel Eliza VanKloek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. VanKloek of Edmonton. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Summerskill, also of Edmonton. The couple will be at home shortly at 959 - 110 ave. Photo by Tyrrell Studios.

Shown leaving St. Peter's Anglican church after their wedding last Saturday are Mr. Maurice Mitchell, and his bride, the former Miss Molly Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Browning of Edmonton. Mr. Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell of Fonthill, Alta., and is a graduate of the University of Alberta. The couple will be at home in Lehighville shortly.—Photo by Foto-Craft.

Dr. Allan A. Dixon and his bride, the former Miss Hermine Beril De Pyffer, are shown signing the register after their recent wedding in Calgary. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. De Pyffer, of Calgary, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Dixon, of Edmonton. The newly-weds, both graduates of the University of Alberta, will reside in Calgary.

How's the Hope Chest, Mac? Emily Says You Need One

The well-groomed groom has a trousseau. So decrees Emily Post, high priestess of etiquette.

As trousseaus go, it doesn't go far. More the cigar box than the hope chest type. In her "Etiquette" Miss Post gives it the brush-off in less than a page. The bride's trousseau takes up 11.

And what should the groom pack?

Two sock suits, says Miss Post, and two pairs of shoes to be worn alternately. (That alternately seems a little unnecessary.) Also a travel-kit case . . . and good looking brushes. "No brushes with the bristles looking as though chewed off, nor half-empty toothpaste tubes, twisted, wrinkled and smeared," Emily warns.

The groom must also have plentiful socks and shirts and pajamas attractive in color and becoming in neckline.

A "must not" for the groom's trousseau is a fancy, but old dressing gown. She warns the groom to toss in a new one, not necessarily so gaudy, but above all new. And the same goes for slippers.

And after he has done all that, Miss Post politely lets him down by explaining that it really isn't so important, anyway, because she doesn't know the woman who "even notices his new suit or hat or shoes, unless they are so strikingly new that they literally shout at her."

So what's the use, Mac?

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O'Leary are shown above after their marriage recently in St. Andrew's church. The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogers, of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Rev. A. K. Odland, of Banff. The young couple will take up residence in Canmore.—Photograph by Houser Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Collingswood are pictured after their wedding which took place in McDougall United church. The bride, who is the former Miss Dorothy Demchuk, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Demchuk of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collingswood, also of this city. Hurling Shoes Was Luck Sign Back in Days of 'Queen Bess'

The hurling of old shoes after the departing bridal car is a boisterous wedding custom with a long history.

In ancient days, it is thought, shoes had something to do with ceremonies or rites in connection with the transfer of property, since women then were considered "property." It is easy to see how shoes worked their way into wedding customs. As late as Anglo-Saxon times, the bride's father delivered one of his daughter's shoes to the groom who touched her on the head with it as a token of his betrothal.

The custom also is associated with luck. As Ben Jonson, Elizabethan playwright, put it: "Toss after me a shoe, and I'll be merry whatever I do."

Capt. James Richard Twohey, U. S. A. F., is pictured with his bride, the former Helen Teresa Graham, after their wedding at St. Joseph's cathedral. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Graham of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. James D. Twohey, of Livermore, Calif. After a honeymoon trip by plane to Banff and Lake Louise, the couple will take up temporary residence in Edmonton. Photograph by Houser Studio.

Beulah Pastor to Officiate At Wedding of His Sister

BY HELEN FERRIS

Officiating at the marriage of his sister and her missionary fiancé this evening, and conducting special farewell services for them at the church tomorrow, will be the unusual experience of the Rev. J. D. Carlson, pastor of Beulah Tabernacle.

HIS SISTER, Miss June Carlson, has been assisting with his work here since their arrival in the city. She is a graduate of the Pacific Bible Institute at Three Hills.

Her fiancé, the Rev. James Cunningham of Edmonton, is a graduate of the same Institute, and also of the Missionary Training School in New York. He was ordained in 1944 at the Pacific Coast Bible College.

MR. CUNNINGHAM has three brothers in the ministry: one is a missionary in China, another is serving in South America, and a third is pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Winnipeg.

In the farewell services tomorrow, solemn New Testament observances by elders of the church will ensure them to their new work. They will leave immediately for four years of missionary service in the West Indies, where their responsibilities are designated on route by the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

GOD'S LOVE FOR US

The Bible has been described as the history of God's love for man. It is the greatest love story ever written. But it is also the story of man's blindness and stupidity, of his inexplicable tendency to bemoan the weakness in himself rather than rely upon God as His surest guide and most potent and infallible friend.

It is perhaps the highest wisdom when man comes to know that God is His strength and sufficiency. To know that God IS God — all-knowing, all-powerful, and, above all, all-loving — is to learn all that the Gospels can teach. It is to find a path that leads unerringly to everlasting contentment and to that vision of God Himself which theologians teach is the ultimate joy.

But men — most men — are weak, and they labor in fear. Their weakness does not mean that they are helpless before the testings of temptation and doubt; it means that their faith is without wings; that their eyes behold only the mire and mud of earth and fail to catch the limitless and beauty of the skies above.

Man is afraid primarily because he does not try to know God. He reads the Gospel texts but fails to discover the message of assurance and love that is their whole significance. Was not Christ born to save men? Did he not heal the sick, give sight to the blind, feed the hungry multitude, comfort the sorrowing? Did He not come again after His death to bring the assurance of His everlasting presence to those who would follow Him? Is not everything we read about God an invitation to love and trust Him?

This, in essence, is the message of the Gospel. "Rejoice in the Lord," Scripture says. Rejoice in Him because He has made us for happiness; because we are infinitely precious to Him and He cannot make us less by the incalculable folly of our own wills, we choose to sever the links of love and tenderness that bind Him to us. It is good to read the Bible; but its immortal glory will be lost to us unless we see in it the testimony and the proof of God's love for us.

United Church Evangelistic Drive Sought

British Protestant leaders have appealed to churches to sponsor a nation-wide evangelistic campaign based on the theme that world peace must depend upon recognition of Christian values rather than upon a United Nations organization.

THE APPEAL, adopted at a three-day conference in Cambridge sponsored by the British Council of Churches, called upon churches of all denominations to unite in warning the people that "there is no such thing as security based on material possessions or upon organization alone."

"The message of the atomic bomb," the plea stated, "is that no society, no country is safe unless it can look to the security to those human, personal relationships of friendship and respect for the individual which are the basis for the nations to agree to lock up the atom bomb and 'give the key to father.' Somebody will certainly steal the key or make another bomb in the back garden."

THE RELIGIOUS leaders charged that the churches have been identified with "a dying era" and that they have not given the right leadership for the future. It was urged that in the new evangelistic movement not only should the churches work together, but laymen should be the new evangelists.

Although stressing that the United Nations Organization must have the fullest support of the churches, the leaders warned that "no one should be deceived by the organization which will prove the last word in security, which depends ultimately on Christian values."

Special Sunday At Tabernacle

This will be another special Sunday in Edmonton's Beulah Tabernacle, which is located at 98 Street and 107 Avenue. The minister, Rev. J. D. Carlson, will be heard speaking in the 11:30 morning service on the theme of "Three Fires."

Then in the 7:30 Sunday evening evangelistic service, Mr. Carlson, whose mother is visiting in the city, will speak on the theme — "The Sermon My Mother has Asked me to Preach."

THIS SPECIAL DAY will conclude with a 9:15 service, when Rev. and Mrs. James Cunningham, who make a last appearance before leaving for the West Indies mission field, in this service there will be a New Testament service for the outgoing missionaries in addition to special music, brief testimonies and a surprise feature. The Grand Trio will be heard in music and song throughout the entire service.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix: My husband is 42, educated and a good provider but he is breaking up our home with his kidding. I have seen people leave our home with trembling lips and watery eyes after a terrible kidding ordeal my husband has put them through. Our daughters say they are losing all their friends on his account.

My husband justifies his kidding on the ground that it is youthful and the only way to attract young people and gain their attention. Can you help us? May God have pity on—

The Kiddlers' Wife

ANSWER: Kidding is the least form of wit and is indulged in by those who have not enough mentality to be brilliant conversationalists. Any fool can kid because there is no human being who does not possess some peculiarity of person or character, or habit.

The kiddler has a cruel streak in him that makes him delight in seeing other people hurt and humiliated. He is a coward because under the guise of being funny he makes his remarks that he has no courage to offer to people's faces. No man is so universally hated as the kiddler and if he thinks that he is making a hit with women, pay making fun of them. He has another guess coming. Few women have a sense of humor and it falls entirely upon the laugh is turned on them.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a man of 39. Have been married twice and have five children by my first wife. I have one child by my present wife who has left me, taking the baby with her. My first wife and I have agreed to make up and remarry, as our children need us so badly. Do you think we would be making a mistake remarrying and putting our real home back together.

ANSWER: No I think you would be doing a wise and fine thing, and I have no doubt that you would make a success of this marriage. Very often a divorce gives a married couple the discipline they need. They have been young and headstrong and are not willing to make the adjustments that are necessary in family life, so they have quarreled and fought and separated early to find out that they loved each other and were unhappy apart.

After that experience, if they don't make a second marriage a remarry, they are soberer and wiser success instead of a failure.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 16. My best friend has gotten into trouble and she is afraid to tell her parents she is going to have a baby. She is going to run away and she wants me to go with her. Do you think I should do it? I am very sorry for her. What would you advise us to do?

N. I. and V. D.

ANSWER: The girl should tell her parents at once all her trouble. The longer she puts it off, the harder it will be, and the more difficult they will find to help her. And for pity's sake, don't you go silly enough to queer yourself, through your misguided sympathy, by running off with her. It will do her no good and it will ruin you for life.

All cucumbers will climb if they are permitted to do so. In a small vegetable plot, cucumbers, tomatoes, peas, beans and melons can be grown on the fence.

Annual poppies should be sown where they are to grow, and their seed may be broadcast whenever the soil can be loosened an inch or so deep with a rake. They stand freezing weather without injury.

India Expands Air Services

NEW DELHI, July 12 (CP)—Immediate plans for the development of civil aviation in India and of Indian overseas services have been outlined by Sir Frederick Tymms, Director of Civil Aviation in India. The policy of the government of India is that air transport should be operated by commercial enterprise, subject to state licensing and inspection. An Air Transport Licensing Board has been set up and will begin to function in October 1946.

REFERRING TO the development of India overseas air services, Sir Frederick said:

We intend to go on with the task of building up our operational capacity, namely, securing enough trained pilots, ground engineers, radio operators and other air personnel. This is a gradual process, a job which we cannot rush beyond a certain point. We shall probably start with regular services to the Middle East, South East Asia and Malaya.

Several of the latest type of British transport aircraft have been purchased for these purposes and are expected to India shortly.

There are approximately 12,000,000 inhabitants in India.

ICE CREAM IS NOT A MODERN INVENTION

Nobody knows just how long ice cream originated, but it is known to have been in use for about 500 years. Various ice cream compounds were prepared in Italy before 1600 A.D. and in Sweden the first ice cream factory for manufacturing ice cream on a commercial scale was set up in Stockholm about 1821. Now such plants are common in all parts of the United States and England.

Vets' Crafts on Display at Fair

BY DOROTHY HOWEY

Visitors to the Edmonton Exhibition next week, interested in the progress of soldier-patients, veterans of World Wars I and II will be attracted by the display of handicrafts done by patients in the department of veterans' affairs hospital—the Colonel Meadburn Pavilion, Jesuit College and the Veterans' House.

FEATURED in the displays will be handicrafts of all kinds—leather, plastic, wood, metal, wire, and wool. The displays will be in the department of veterans' affairs hospital—the Colonel Meadburn Pavilion, Jesuit College and the Veterans' House.

At the fair, patients will be making out of their hands, the handicrafts of all kinds—leather, plastic, wood, metal, wire, and wool. The displays will be in the department of veterans' affairs hospital—the Colonel Meadburn Pavilion, Jesuit College and the Veterans' House.

GUIDING GENIUS behind the work is Miss Stella Davidson of Dunsmuir, B.C., in charge of the occupational therapy department. She is a member of the Royal Canadian Naval Nursing Service.

She is a member of the Royal Canadian Naval Nursing Service. She is a member of the Royal Canadian Naval Nursing Service. She is a member of the Royal Canadian Naval Nursing Service.

and mind, and more important, encourage him to meet the new world into which he soon will go.

MUSCLES and ligaments torn by war injury, gunshot wounds, and other injuries, are being treated by the occupational therapy department.

At the desk, a lad whose hands had been badly burned and had skin grafted to make new ones, was cutting out plastic letters using specially devised attachments so that his hands could grasp the tool. Gradual use will increase the flexibility of his stiffened joints and adhesions, Miss Davidson explained.

In the gymnasium, mirrors donated by Edmonton people, facing each other, were being used by a patient who was learning to walk all alone. He was correcting his posture by watching himself in the mirror. He doesn't want a slouch to spoil his appearance in civilian life.

MOVING FROM ONE bed to another, she gently massaged a sore hand here, an aching arm there, or helped in exercising a shoulder that must soon support a man-made arm.

"The purposes of occupational therapy, generally, she explained, are threefold: the education of the patient as to how he may regain the use of his injured part; recreation so that he enjoys the progress without realizing the medical cure involved; and rehabilitation so that he can face the world with self-confidence restored and find the niche awaiting him."

TO PROBE DEATH The sudden death of two and one-half month old Larry Douglas Jacobson of Riley, resulted in a coroner's investigation. There is no indication as to how the child met his death, according to an RCMP report.

ENIGMATIC MODEL The model for Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" is said to have been Isabella d'Este, the marchioness of Mantua.

Winston Churchill A Literary Giant. London, July 13 (CP)—Sir John Galsworthy, former chairman of the War Office, recently told Winston Churchill the greatest living man of words and phrases in his youth read and read until it was steeped in literature and words. His consciousness has ripened in to instinct so that he is able now to express what he has to say in a manner which is quite incomparable. Presenting prizes for the study of Shakespeare and English, Sir John said the art of describing something in as few words as possible was a "great asset."

No Insect Plague In This Province. The range and species of insects within a certain region from Central Manitoba have been traveling on an axis and stripping sources in a large area of forestland. Apparently unknown by authorities here from the description given in the Manitoba report.

E.H. STRICKLAND, professor of entomology at the University of Alberta, said Friday that the closest approximation he could name would be the spruce sawfly, a caterpillar-like creature which is destructive to spruce needles. Some of these insects appear annually in Alberta and they have been noted in the Edmonton district.

The professor said while they have not constituted a serious problem here they were capable of "very serious destruction."

THE MANITOBA report said the insects, allegedly stripping spruce forests, were small and winged. Another angle of the report said they were observed early in the spring moving over the trees.

The professor said he was not aware of the existence of an insect of that description.

J.E. BIRDALE, provincial supervisor of crop improvement services, said he had had no reports of any such plague in Alberta but that a close watch was being maintained on pests and infestation.

Schoolboy Police Cut Mishap Rate

CASTOR, Alta., July 13 (CP)—A meeting to discuss rules and regulations for the junior police force has solved the traffic problems of this southern Alberta town.

Established by Chief Constable A. S. Russell, the force consists of a captain, two lieutenants and seven constables, all school students.

THE MOST IMPORTANT task of the junior force is to patrol corners when children are going to and from school. It was organized by Russell following a fatal accident at a busy street corner.

Five minutes before school is dismissed the young officers, clad in neat uniforms, hats and gloves, take up their posts of duty in the town. Authorized to direct traffic they halt all speeding motorists, warning them against fast driving. So far none have needed a second warning and the police have yet to receive a complaint.

Each week the members hold a meeting.

Tourists Go North Via Aerial Route. RAINY RIVER, Ont., July 13 (CP)—Flying tourists into the Lake of the Woods and other northwestern Ontario summer resorts is a roaring business for two RCMP veterans, Joe Sponaski and Woodrow Underlick. The service is known as Spinwood Sportland Airways.

Mostly Americans, are met here and flown to various parts of the north by fishing and shooting equipment.

HONEY FACTORY

IT HAD been a bad Spring for maple sugar and the Teenie Weenies were running mighty short of sweets. They did make some sugar from clover blossoms and they found a couple of thimblefuls of syrup in an old bottle, but the Cook was so short of sweets he stopped making Teenie Weenie cakes and cookies. Of course, the Dunce set up a howl over that. After howling for a time, he began to hunt for sweets. He didn't find a single grain of sugar, but he did have an idea and he took Gogo into his confidence.

"If we could catch a bee and put it in a bottle it would make honey for us," he explained to Gogo.

"No, sah!" answered Gogo. "Ah suttently won't fool 'round no bee when he is mad and he suah would be a powerful mad bee if yo' all tried to boost him into a bottle."

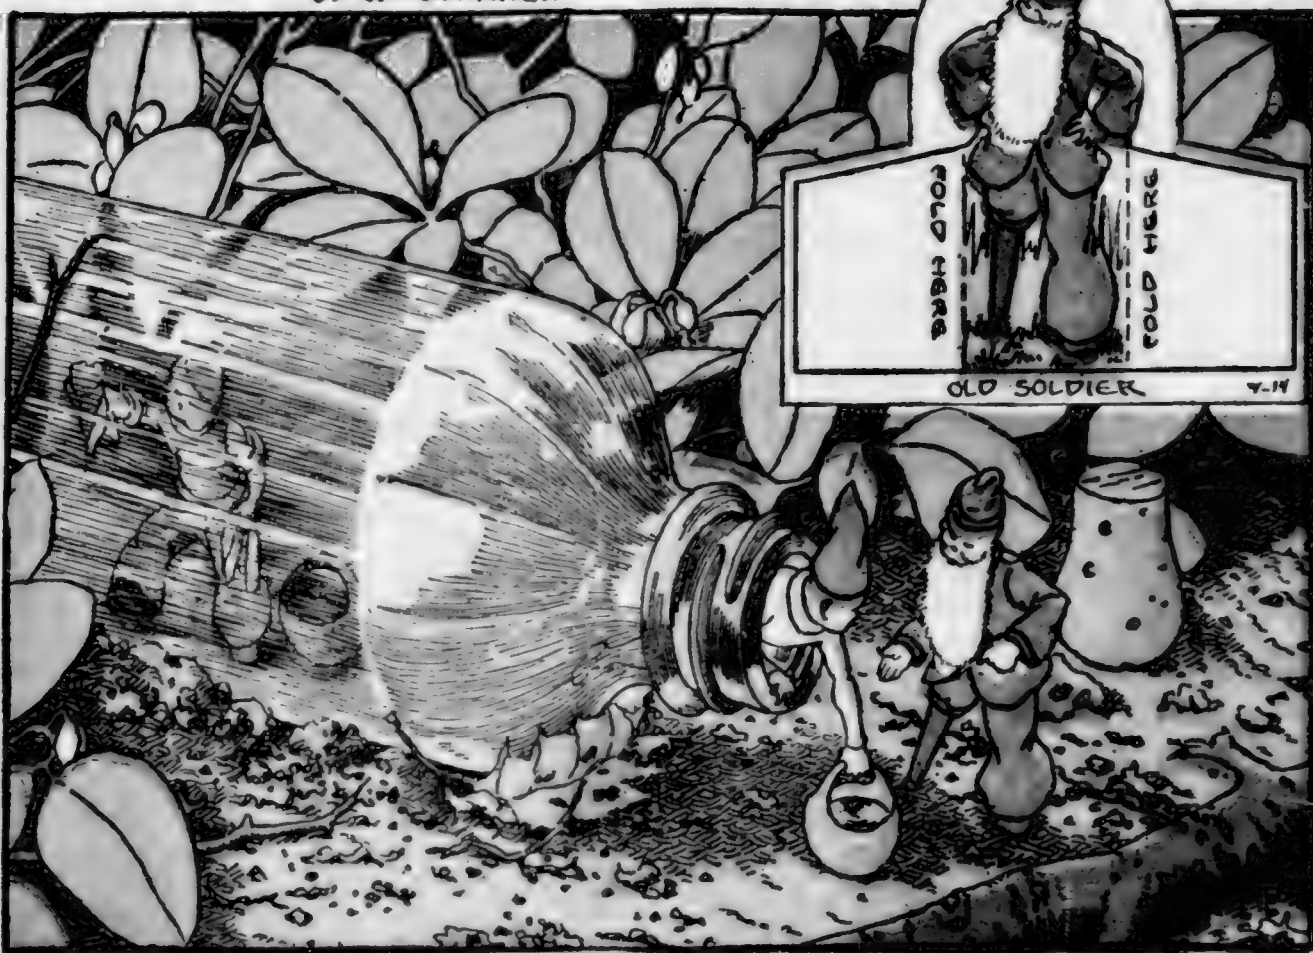

"I know where there's an empty bottle," argued the Dunce. "All we have to do is to clean out the bottle, sprinkle a little sugar near the opening and inside the bottle. The bee will smell the sugar, crawl in the bottle and then we will put in the cork and keep the bee in there until it makes a lot of honey."

"No, sah!" put in Gogo. "Ah'd rathah do wid-out de honey than fool around a ol' bee."

After much argument, the Dunce finally persuaded Gogo to help trap a bee. The two Teenie Weenies carried some rags and a couple of hazelnut buckets of water to the big bottle that lay in a patch of wintergreen at the edge of the big woods. They started to wash the inside of the bottle just as the Old Soldier with the wooden leg happened to pass by.

"What's going on here?" he asked as the Dunce reached out of the neck of the bottle for a bucket of water.

The Dunce carefully explained his plan to the Old Soldier, who listened with a smile.

"How could a bee make honey if he couldn't get out to gather nectar from the flowers? And a bee won't make honey unless you have a queen bee in the bottle," said the Old Soldier, and then he explained that a queen would have to be taken from the center of a hive of thousands of buzzing bees.

Even the foolish Dunce saw that that would be impossible, and so he and Gogo gave up the idea of a honey factory. As they had thoroughly washed the bottle, the two Teenie Weenies decided to make it into a Teenie Weenie club, and now a number of the little people spend many pleasant hours in the bottle—especially on rainy d—
